

Decision Story Daptiv PPM

About Ameco

AMECO, headquartered in Greenville, South Carolina, is the global leader in integrated mobile equipment and tool solutions. They provide a wide range of services to construction, mining, government and industrial markets around the world.

Decision Stories – Why Daptiv?

Interview with Ed Tobias, Director of Program Management

What drove your company to look into a collaborative business software? What were your motivations, and what were your business needs?

We were already working with a scheduling tool, word docs and Excel and had Microsoft Project in place.

We needed a set of tools to allow for project management / resource management maturity.

What process did you go through to select a collaborative business software provider? What was your criteria?

We pooled knowledge between people within the company and looked at numerous industry websites, focusing on top products available.

From a list of 52 products, narrowed it down to 6 products and at the top of the 6 was Daptiv and hosted Microsoft Portfolio Management. Chose Daptiv because (see below).

Why did you choose Daptiv?

- Low cost entry point
- scalable
- hosted
- ease of use over the web
- Bi-directional interface with Microsoft Project